The Kellogg Bird Carnival at the Columbia Theater, Much interest has been aroused in the Kellogg bird carnival which will be given at the Columbia Theater tomorrow afternoon at 4:15 o'clock in the interest of the National Junior Republic, at Annapolis Junction, Md. The carnival, which has been held throughout the United States, Canada and Europe at different times, is a unique and especially interesting style of entertainment. It consists chiefly of a lecture by Mr. Charles D. Kellogg on bird life, illustrated with truthfully colored stereopticon views and warblings. It is stereopticon views and warblings. It is the warbling by Mr. Kellogg, together with the various calls of the birds, that gives to the entertainment an atmosphere of real bird life. As the various varieties of song birds are thrown upon the large screen Mr.

Kellogg birdly tells something of their characteristics and mode of living. He then imitates their songs, warblings and calls with such accurateness and fidelity that it seems almost that the chipper little creature on the canvas is giving forth the clarion notes. Mr. Kellogg has made a study of nearly all the more important species of song birds of America and Europe, spending his summer months each year in visiting new haunts. He is phenomenally gifted in being able to imitate with realistic precision their notes and tones. This he does in the throat, themouth and lips being tightly closed while warbling, the tones coming through thnostrils. He produces simultaneously two, three and sometimes four separate and distinct tones, and warbles instrumental solos as a bird would had it the mind and power of man. Mr. Kellogg has appeared before the Prince of Wales, the Princess Christian of Schleswig-Holstein, the Princess Fredericka, Baroness von Powell Ramingen, the Duke of Portland, the Duke of Newcastle, the Marquis of Ormonds, Lord Edward Spencer Churchili, Constance Marchioness of Lothian; Lady Matthews, Lady Ronalds and many of the crowned heads.
In Europe Mr. Kellogg appeared at 136 drawing rooms, and concluded his tour with a final concert to an audience of 20,000 in the Crystal Palace, London. The program for tomorrow afternoon is an attractive one. Mr. Kellogg will be assisted by Mrs.
Emily Stuart Kellogg in vocal selections and Miss Kate Huil Bundy, planist.

The patronesses of the entertainment are as follows: The Duchess de Arcos, Mrs. A L. Barber, Mrs. Chas. J. Bell, Mrs. T. A.
Bingham, Mrs. James G. Blaine, Mrs. Henry F. Blount, Mrs. Andrew C. Bradley, Miss Chanler, Mrs. George A. C. Christiancy, the warbling by Mr. Kellogg, together with the various calls of the birds, that gives
